

Perfect for New Harvest Employees

Safety Orientation Video

Designed for Grain Elevators & Feed Mills

This 14minute video and workbook set is the perfect tool to provide basic safety information to new employees and serves as a strong reminder to long-term employees. Developed by the Safety•Health•Environmental Services of the Grain and Feed Association of Illinois in cooperation with the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs and GROWMARK, Inc., this video and workbook combination is a must have for every employer concerned about employee safety.

The primary goal of the video/workbook set is to reduce common accidents and injuries associated with employees, especially new employees. It is designed to give an overview of the tasks that employees complete as part of their job, the associated hazards involved with those tasks, and safe procedures for completing them. The video covers the following eight topics:

- General safety considerations
- Personal protective equipment (PPE)
- Dump pit safety
- Grain dust explosion causes and prevention
- Grain entrapment and grain storage structure entry
- Ladder safety
- Electrical safety
- Machine guarding/entanglement prevention.

The workbook, or training manual, was developed directly from the video script as a companion resource. In addition to covering the eight topics listed above, the workbook includes a pre-test, post-test, and new employee checklist to ensure your employees understand the information that could save their life.

Your investment for this must have safety orientation video/workbook set is:
